The Spring begins March 10, 34 min. past 6 in the morning, at which time the Sun entrencheth into the Equinoctial signe Aries; causing an equality of day & night, all the habitable World over.

Summer takes beginning the 11 of June, 38 min. after 9 in the morning; Sol then entring Cancer, makes longest dayes, and shortest nights on this side the Æquinoctial.

Autumn, or Harvest quarter begins, the Sun entring the first scruple of Libra, which is this year, Sept. 12, 25 min. after midnight equalizing againe day and night..

Winter begins December 11, the Sun then entring the Tropical signe Capricorn, at 15 minutes past high noon, making shortest day, and longest night in the year.

Of Eclipses hapning this year 1658.

There be onely two Eclipses of the Sun this year, none of the moon by reason these two of the Sun, are both Central, the first of the Sun is the 22 of May, neer 3 in the morn. not at all seer of us, for though the Sun is neer visible to us, he annot appear eclipsed, by reason of the great North parallax the moon hath at the time of the Conjunction, but it will be total to them who live in longitude 156, & 157 degrees, and North latitude 27, such are the Indies, and the Phillipine Islands.

The second Eclipse of the Sun is the 14 of November, neer 11 at night, not visible to us.

The use of this Table, with a Caution.

Do but observe in the fifth Column of the Almanack the hours and minutes of full-Sea at London bridge over against each several day of the Moneth, to or from which time there noted, add or subtract such hours and minutes as this Table above doth appoint, and the total of the one, or remainder of the other shall be the time of the full-Sea at any of the places abovesaid, salved the Anticipation or protraction of time, which by the winds, Land-floods, or Moons latitude may be caused, which may be an hour, or sometimes more or less error, according to their site and quantity; a thing very remarkable of Sea-men when they pass by any Sands, over any barr or haven, or such like.
